GRAB BY SUBWAY UPHELD IN REPORT TO MAYOR GAYNOR

Citizens' Committee Urges City Officials to Accept the Interborough Offer.

Charge Public Would Receive More Consideration.

The joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Assoctation, which, at the request of Mayor Gayner, considered the subway situation, forwarded to-day to the Mayor a report stating that the committee is unantmous in hoping that the public authorities will accept the proposal of the Interborough, with such modifications in details as may appear to them | to be judicious.

The report contains these significant paragraphs

"Does any one doubt, for example, that if Mr. McAdoo were placed in charge of the Interborough system the attitude of the Interborough toward the public would be radically changed? Some day even the management of the Interborough may learn that the good will of the public is worth having for every reason. When this idea really reaches home, the Interborough will strive as earnestly as Mr. McAdoo now does to please the public. There is room. as every one knows, for a change of attitude toward the public on the part of the Interborough management, which would make its service satisfactory in many minor respects as to which now it is a subject of just criticism.

"Such a change of attitude night come from competition, but It may also come without it."

Then Favore Monopoly. Thereupon, the report swings to the side of monopoly, with the following onclusion:

"This committee would deprecate the adoption of a policy of competition which would forfeit all of the advantages pertaining to the Interborough offer; which would involve the city in useless expense; and in return for which, in the judgment of this committee, the city would be likely to reap disadvantage rather than advantage.

"This committee is unanimous in hoping that the public authorities will accept the proposal of the Interborough, with such modification in details as may appear to them judicious, and that they will do this as promptly as possible, and thus put an end to a situation that is already, from the point of view of the travelling public, intolerable, and which becomes worse every day that the settlement is postponed." Other points covered in the report are

First-It is said that the financial plan is unfair, in that the city's claim upon the earnings, for interest and amortization of the city's bonds, is made subordinate to six other items. The answer is twofold. The first five items meet these charges, and these receiver's certificates would precede the payment of interest on any bonds. This being so, the question is reduced to the simple one, whether it is fair to allow the bonds that are to be issued by the Interborough Company to be provided city bonds. This committee believes Second—The proposed terms upon which the Brooklyn Fourth avenue subway, and other similar additions, are to be operated, seem to some inequitable. The Inter-borough proposal is that it will op-erate the Brooklyn Fourth avenue subway, and other similar additions, provided the city will guarantee it against loss. On the other hand, it asks for one-half of the profits if and when the operation for out of earnings in advance of the becomes profitable.

This committee believes that the proposal should be amended in this respect. The equitable basis for profit sharing is the incurring of risk. The Interborough being unwilling to incur the risks of oneration, in such cases, forfeits its claim to a share in the profits.

Suggests Some Changes.

This Committee, therefore propose blue, when informed of the action of Dr. MacDonald, said:

Dr. MacDonald, said: "That would seem to be a very proper decomposed in the legal form it is mandatory and. It certainly confirms the conclusion in the Board of Estimate, is the outcome of prolonged negotiations on the part of prolonged negotiations and the local profits, after operating expenses have been met, should go to the city in full until the advances which This proposal offers the following ad- it has made under its guarantee agains:
